Municipal Vulnerability Certified Providers at CEI

CEI now has four senior professionals who have completed training with the Massachusetts Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) to assist communities in vulnerability preparedness. Cities and towns can perform the assessments through a grant program, and may get preference in grants in the future. Nick Cristofori, Matt Lundsted, Bob Hartzel, and Mike Ohl are now Trained Certified Service Providers for the EEA Municipal Vulnerability Preparedness (MVP) Program. The program's goal is to help Commonwealth communities build resiliency to climate change through proactive planning efforts.
