CEI Introduces Drone Services to CT Water Industry – ATCAVE 2017

The Connecticut Section of the American Water Works Association (AWWA) held their 21st Annual Technical Conference and Vendor Expo (ATCAVE) on February 28, 2017 in Cromwell, CT. This conference is the premier in-state showcase for Connecticut water works professionals.

CEI once again exhibited on the exposition floor in support of this annual event and showcased the firm's newest water supply related service – EagleEye™ Aerobotics – Environmental and Engineering Services using small Unmanned Aerial Systems (sUAS) platforms, sometimes referred to as drones. This new service combines the use of customized real time imagery with CEI's engineering and scientific expertise to provide superior access, timely site reviews and increased data precision.

One of CEI's Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) licensed remote UAS pilot engineers' was on hand to discuss the use of this technology and how it can assist water suppliers.

For more information or a flight demonstration please contact EagleEye Aerobotics™ at 800.725.2550 or visit www.eagleeyeaerobotics.com. For more information on CEI's water supply engineering services in CT please contact Sebastian Amenta, P.E. at 860.224.0442 or at samenta@ceiengineers.com.
