Lakes Region Water Quality Management Conference

For over 30 years CEI has focused on water quality and stormwater management throughout the region, leading the industry in engineering innovative infiltration practices along the way. Now a common design practice, landscaping for water quality management is being encouraged and promoted among new and redevelopment designs alike.

On March 30th and 31st, 2017, CEI Principal Engineer Benjamin Lundsted, P.E. attended the Landscaping for Water Quality in the Lakes Region conference in Moultonborough, NH.
