CEI Welcomes New Senior Staff Member

Robert Hartzel, CLM, CPESC joins Comprehensive Environmental Inc.

CEI is pleased to announce that Mr. Robert Hartzel, CLM, CPESC has been hired to lead a diverse array of water and natural resources consulting services. Mr. Hartzel brings over 20 years of experience in water resources management, regulatory support, public policy development, and public outreach projects. Mr. Hartzel was primary author of the 2014-2019 Massachusetts Nonpoint Source Management Program Plan on behalf of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) and led development of MassDEP's Massachusetts Clean Water Toolkit, the state's primary public outreach tool related to water pollution. He recently completed development of the Massachusetts Watershed Based Plans website, the first statewide watershed planning tool of its kind.

Mr. Hartzel is a Certified Lake Manager (CLM) and has led numerous surface water and watershed management projects for clients including the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, lake associations, municipal water suppliers, government agencies, and industrial clients. As a professional wetland scientist, he provides federal and state regulatory strategy and support services for projects ranging from complex Superfund cleanup sites to infrastructure development and ecological restoration projects.

CEI is an environmental engineering and consulting design firm with a wide range of experience in water and natural resources, water supply, stormwater and wastewater, hazardous and solid waste, and civil engineering. CEI's strong focus on our clients, staff, and quality of work make us an industry leader and a multi-year recipient of Best Firms to Work For awards. As we celebrate 30 years of service, we welcome Bob to our team and look forward to continuing to provide the highest level of service to our municipal, state, federal, and private clients.
