

CEI sponsors Water: Systems, Science & Society (WSSS) Symposium

On April 27, 2012 CEI staff members, David Nyman and Jessica Cajigas, attended the 3rd annual Water: Systems, Science & Society (WSSS) Symposium – The Glass Half Full: Valuing Water in the 21st Century. CEI also sponsored this event, organized by the students of the Tufts University WSSS Graduate Program and from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

Throughout the day, students, researchers and industry experts explored a variety of water issues focusing on the valuation of clean water, flooding and flow.

For more information on various water management topics including drinking water and water resources, please visit our website at www.ceiengineers.com or call 800.725.2550.